

ABOUT

NANCY ZADRA

Art has always been very close to my heart, as an activity, as a subject of study, and as a way of interacting with the world. It is art that has provided a constant theme in my life. Now, after 44 years teaching art in public school classrooms, I am retired and free to pursue my own continuing art adventures. I favor mixed media, abstraction, and figurative artworks. My education includes degrees from U.C. Davis, Cal State Univ. Sacramento, and the University of Montana.
